

Pay Dirt can supply a turnkey attraction, including the sluice, panning sieves, identification signage, sales building and all themeing. A choice of bags is available, and delivered to you on convenient-to-handle pallets.

The sluice tower and cascade is a closed loop system, so you don't need a permanent water supply. The water is chlorine treated and can be heated if required, for cold weather use.

Each installation is custom built to your requirements and budget. We can theme your attraction to suit your market and location.

The attraction can be indoors or outdoors, and requires as little as three square metres of operating space.

Gemstone and fossil panning will provide a great new experience for your visitors, and great profits for your business.

Pay Dirt
Lawn Farm Studios
Metfield Road
Fressingfield, Suffolk
UK

+44 (0)7930 412038
info@paydirtattractions.co.uk
www.paydirtattractions.co.uk pay dirt n. 1. Earth, ore, or gravel that is profitable to mine.

2. (Informal) A useful or profitable discovery or venture.

paydirt

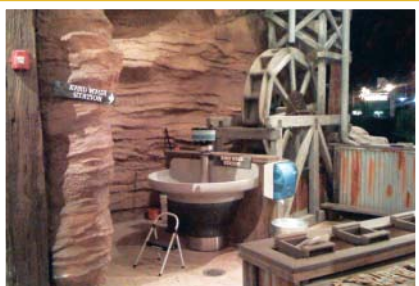

Gemstone and Fossil Panning

The sluices are attractive and practical, and easy to use. Your visitors will love the experience of finding and washing their own treasure from the pay dirt.

Visitors buy a container of “mining rough” enriched with gemstones or fossils from around the world. There is a wide variety of gems or fossils in the mix; no two bags are the same.

We recommend that the mining rough is sold in small, galvanised metal buckets, which are returned to the sales point. The mixture is delivered to you in individual polythene bags.

The visitor then washes the mix in the sluice, revealing the gems or fossils. Whatever they find, they keep! The attraction appeals to all ages, boys and girls alike.